With summer just a few days away, the Lausanne Palace is ready to welcome you, under a warm and welcoming sun.

Giving you a first-class break has always been our priority but keeping you and our teams safe is just as important. That's why we're supporting the measures decided by the Swiss Federal Council and Swiss Federal Office of Public Health.

Our colleagues have always followed precise and strict hygiene regulations to provide you with a safe and secure visit. In light of the current situation, we have reinforced certain measures. Here is a sample list:
